MEXICO'S GREAT FUTURE
VERY SMALL PLANET, BUT—
MARRIED AT 2 YEARS

—By Arthur Brisbane—
(Copyright 1929 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

RECENT visits to Mexico convince this writer that to help in building Mexico's prosperity would be one way to build up United States prosperity. The Mexicans possess an empire of unsurpassed beauty, fertility, mineral and other wealth. The Mexican people are hard, patient and skillful workers, and hundreds of thousands of Mexicans could, and gladly would, learn mechanical skilled trades, well paid.

SOME OF THE billions that our bankers lend so cheerfully to Europe not always to get them back, could be lent to greater advantage and more safety to Mexico. To help in building a greater and wealthier Mexico would be to create new and rich markets for the United States.

Every new good road in Mexico would mean many American automobiles sold. Every Mexican, helped by credit to attain prosperity, would mean a new customer for American made goods, pending the building up of all industries in Mexico.

This is the continent that interests us. And the nations that should have our sincere and generous co-operation, are our nearest neighbors, Canada on the north, Mexico on the south. To build north and south, with the aid of our unlimited wealth, the honor and deserved friendship of these two countries, would be to make this North American continent forever invulnerable to attack.

THERE WOULD BE A triple alliance north while—Canada, the United States and Mexico. Neighborly United States, allies, respecting the rights, and contributing to the prosperity of the other two.

FERNAND BALLET, French astronomer at Meudon, says the new planet, discovered by an American, is not important because it is 30 times smaller than the earth. What of it. A human brain is many billion times smaller than this planet, but it gives the earth all its value. Without human intelligence and eyes to see, it would have no real existence.

Size is nothing. The Bible teaches that many angels could dance on the point of a needle, and science says millions of them really could dance there. The needlepoint would be a vast ballroom if the angels were as small as atoms. They may be smaller. The power that rules this universe, which of course is not a human shaped god with beard, hair and feet, may have no size at all. Consider the size of radium, sending out force for centuries, and don't despise the new planet.

Agreements Reached In London Naval Parley

UNITED STATES IN PACT WITH OTHER NATIONS

Tri-Partite Agreement Effected With Japan And Great Britain

FIVE-POWER TREATY APPEARS POSSIBLE

Technical Reservations Set Forth By Japan In Acceptance

LONDON, April 3.—Complete agreement on disarmament programs was reached by the delegates of Great Britain, the United States and Japan today.

It was officially announced that the American and British representatives had accepted the reservations embodied in the Japanese sanction of the Reed-Matsudaira compromise agreement.

Acceptance of the Japanese reservations makes a tri-partite treaty between the three major naval powers of the world a certainty. If the security demands of France can now be satisfied, it is highly probable that a five-power disarmament treaty, the chief aim of the London naval conference, will materialize.

The reservations set forth in the Japanese acceptance were technical, and regarded by British and American experts as not affecting the efficacy of the compromise agreement obtained here by Senator David A. Reed, one of the leading members of the American delegation, and Tameo Matsudaira, Japanese ambassador to England.

One of the most notable features of the agreement is the decision to commence scrapping of battleships before the end of 1931. Britain will scrap five, the United States three and Japan one. Previously Japan had held out for battleship scrapping in 1934, instead of earlier.

All agreed that the three powers were free to make any claims they desire in 1935, which will be taken up in due course at the next disarmament conference.

The six bodies which had previously been recovered and identified were those of M. C. Vann, assistant foreman, Dave Souder, Luther Dodge, Ed Osborne, John Engle and Lee A. Johnson. They have all been buried.

As soon as the bodies were removed from the mine today they were placed on a special train for Pineville, where identification will be completed and the bodies turned over to their families.

OPPOSITION FILED BY MITCHELL TO JONES LAW MODIFICATIONS

Recommendation Made by Representatives On Issue Attacked

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Opposition to modification of the Jones law, which provides heavy maximum penalties for violations of the prohibition statutes, has been filed with the house judiciary committee by Attorney General Mitchell.

In a confidential communication he objected particularly to a measure by Representative Stobbs, Republican, Massachusetts, to modify this law by defining slight and casual offenders and fixing the maximum penalty for such offenses at six months imprisonment and a fine of $500.

The Jones statute, he said, should have a longer trial.

At the same time, the attorney general disapproved two bills by Representative Christopherson, Republican, South Dakota, embodying plans for defining felonies and misdemeanors under the United States code and for setting up juryless trials before United States commissioners as had been recommended by the Hoover law enforcement mission.

He approved in general, two other bills written by Christopherson and recommended to congress by the Hoover commission to relieve congested federal courts, but suggested several changes in these.

The attorney general would have the commission plan for trial by the United States commissioners operative in district courts only as the judges order it. He urged that the maximum penalty for slight or casual violations be fixed at six months in jail, a $1,000 fine or both.

RUSSIA ANXIOUS FOR PEACE PACT

Negotiations Under Way With Poland, Press Despatches Say

LONDON, April 3.—Soviet Russia is anxious to negotiate a pact of security and neutrality with Poland, according to press despatches from Moscow.

Behind this gesture of peace, state the despatches, is a growing apprehension on the part of Russia regarding Poland's military intentions.

Poland is known to be Anti-Soviet and has a treaty of Alliance with Roumania, under which the former is pledged to come to the aid of Roumania in the event of a Soviet invasion of Bessarabia, the annexation of which by Roumania has never been recognized by Russia.

In addition, Poland is an ally of France and has recently concluded a commercial agreement with Germany. Moscow is said to fear that these new alignments might encourage Poland to undertake some hostile action against Russia, and, at any rate, threaten any Soviet expansion along the borders of Central Europe.

Policeman Victim Of Petty Theft

COLUMBUS, D. April 3.—Highly exasperated, Corporal C. T. Wade, of the local police department, today is searching for the thief who stole a tire and a rim from his automobile which was said to have been parked in front of the city jail.

Dealer In Extinct Securities, Wall Street's Junk Man Dies

NEW YORK, April 3.—Wall street's junk man, Roland M. Smythe, dealer in extinct securities, is dead.

Engraved paper, representing billions in forlorn hopes, burst bubbles and defunct wild cats passed through his hands during the half century he conducted his unique business from a little office at 2 Broadway.

Mr. Smythe died yesterday of acute indigestion at his home in Brooklyn. He was 75 years old.

He embarked on his unusual business career when in the early 80's, while employed by a stock brokerage firm, he was handed some repudiated South Carolina bonds with instructions to destroy them. He sold one through another broker to the state of South Carolina for $1,200 and not caring for the rush and bustle of the street he thereafter turned his attention to a trade in obsolete and extinct securities.

He became an expert authority on the value—if any—of old securities and was frequently consulted by bankers and brokers concerning the worth of stock and bond certificates which came into their hands.

Now and then some of his dodges came to life. One time he sold a Yonkers doctor enough bonds of a Pennsylvania coal company to paper the walls of his den. The doctor paid $40 for the bundle. Coal was later discovered on the property and the doctor was paid $14,000 for his "wallpaper."

Cooper Expected In 1935 Contest

FROMM REQUESTS REVIEW OF CASE IN STATE COURT

Former Commissioner Of Stark County Files Motion Today

INDEFINITE STAY OF EXECUTION GIVEN

Conviction Illegal, Basis Of Charges Before High Tribunal

COLUMBUS, O., April 3.—Charles A. Fromm, former Stark county commissioner, today filed a motion in state supreme court asking a review of his conviction in Cuyahoga county common pleas court on a charge of accepting a bribe in connection with construction contracts on the Mally Stark tuberculosis hospital between Canton and Alliance. On a motion of Defense Attorney Oscar M. Abt of Canton, Chief Justice Carrington T. Marshall of supreme court granted Fromm an indefinite stay of execution pending hearing of the appeal.

Fromm was sentenced to 18 months in Ohio penitentiary after he had been convicted on a charge of soliciting a bribe of $400 from the Colson-Cleveland company, of Cleveland in connection with hospital contracts. The appellate court of Cuyahoga county yesterday granted a 10 days stay of execution to permit Fromm to complete his appeal to the highest state tribunal.

Fromm charged that he was illegally convicted in that the indictment charged him with soliciting the bribe while acting as county commissioner claiming that in fact he was serving as a member of the building commission at the time.

He also claimed that the prosecuting attorney conducted the trial improperly.

Will of New York Magnate Contested

NEW YORK, April 3.—The heirs of Abraham L. Erlanger and Charlotte Erlanger, who claims to be his common law widow, were $99,175,000 apart today in their estimates of the theatrical magnate's estate.

The self-styled widow, who is contesting Erlanger's will in an effort to establish a claim to one-half the estate claims the assets aggregated $100,000,000.

An affidavit filed in surrogate's court by counsel for the executors declared that the value of the estate is $825,000.

Mayor Thorpe is serving his fourth term as chief executive of Washingtonville. He served three consecutive terms and then retired, but was elected again last November.

Smith, a resident of Lisbon, is prominent in fraternal affairs and a member of the Lisbon Kiwanis club. He is a native of St. Clair township.

Three Now In Race

The Republican race for treasurer has already created considerable interest as the list of entries stands at three. L. H. Johnson, of Lisbon, and A. Earl Edwards, of East Liverpool are the other entries.

Johnson is clerk of the county commissioners while Edwards is clerk of the municipal court in East Liverpool.

Elmer E. Walker, Republican, present county auditor and chairman of the Republican county committee, has formally announced his candidacy for re-election. He is a resident of Damascus.

J. Howard Sinclair, county commissioner, will seek re-election this year. The other two commissioners will be held over another year.

CONOLD, HANNAH FACE FREEDOM

Indictments To Be Nolle Against Suspects In Kidnapping

WOOSTER, O., April 3.—Once more the Melvin Horst mystery, Ohio's most puzzling disappearance case, appeared back at its starting point today.

First degree murder and child stealing kidnapping indictments were turned by a grand jury against Charles Hannah and Earl Conold, arrested in the last investigation of what became of the four-year old missing boy, are expected to be nolle when a special venire of jurors to try Conold is selected tomorrow morning.

Prosecutor Marion Graven refused to confirm the report he would nolle the charges. But neither did he make a denial. The indictments were voted without Graven's recommendation and the only evidence the state has against the two men consists of Hannah's long list of alternate assertions that he killed Melvin. Then Conold was the slayer, and subsequent denials.

REAL ESTATE IN COUNTY WILL BE APPRAISED SOON

State Statutes Require Assessment At Six Year Intervals

LISBON, April 3.—As a result of a law passed by the general assembly of Ohio, March 5, 1928, requiring that all real estate in the state shall be assessed every six years, there will be a reappraisal of all real estate in Columbiana county, beginning this year and being entirely completed in 1931. It was announced today by County Auditor Elmer E. Walker.

The present law provides that all real estate shall be appraised at its true value in money, and this feature was retained in the amendment carried at the election last November, the exact wording being, "and improvements thereon shall be taxed by uniform rule according to value."

Another clause of the new law provides that "no property shall be so taxed in excess of one and one-half percent of its true value in money for all state and local purposes."

Provision, however, is made in the law for the increase of this rate by vote of the electors. This allows practically the same flexibility of rates that exists at this time. There is now a limitation of one and one-half percent, and the rates of taxation in excess of that amount have been added either by an act of the legislature or by a vote of the electors.

Nothing in the new amendment provides for a less rate than that now existing. The state legislature is given wide latitude in the matter of framing new tax laws, and many new methods of levying taxes are being proposed.

At this time, Mr. Walker has posted out, no one knows, with any degree of certainty what tax laws will be enacted at the next session of the legislature.

WORKS WRECKED BY BLAST; MANY FOUND INJURED

Nine Frame Buildings In Small Town Ruined; Women Among Dead

DAMAGE HEAVY IN ENTIRE DISTRICT

Nine Bodies Recovered; Nearby Residences Said Demolished

DEVON, PA., April 3.—Fifteen persons were believed to have been killed and 30 others are thought to have been injured today when explosions wrecked the nine one-story frame buildings of the Pennsylvania Fireworks Display company along the Lincoln highway, near here.

Nine charred bodies were recovered from the debris shortly before noon. The dead were so seriously burned, however, identification at first was impossible.

There were known to be 36 employees, seven of them girls, in the main plant at the time of the blasts. So far none of them has been found alive.

Ten of those believed to be dead probably perished in the central building of the company. Two of the ten were women.

The entire coterie of buildings in the fireworks plant were destroyed, and six nearby residences were reported demolished.

The first blast occurred shortly after 10 a. m., following a series of minor explosions. Ten minutes later a second major blast rocked the plant, followed by a third destructive explosion five minutes later.

Railroad Traffic
Traffic on the Pennsylvania railroad lines was tied up for a time by the confusion resulting from the explosions.

All telephone and telegraph lines into Devon were damaged by falling poles. The communication lines, however, were reestablished within a short time, being rerouted over other lines.

The local police force of Devon was called out to cope with the situation and only the prompt arrival of state police succeeded in restoring order out of the chaos prevailing in the neighborhood of the plant.

IRISH PRESIDENT BACK IN OFFICE

William T. Cosgrave Is Re-Elected In Vote By Cabinet

DUBLIN, IRISH FREE STATE, April 3.—William T. Cosgrave was restored today to the presidency of the Irish Free State, an office he held from 1922 until last week, when he resigned after defeat in the dail on an opposition measure.

He was re-elected last night by a vote of 80 to 65. In two preceding ballots his two opponents, Eamon De Valera, of the Fianna Fail, and Thomas J. O'Connell, Fiore leader were eliminated. De Valera by a vote of 63 to 34 and O'Connell by a vote of 78 to 19.

Cosgrave's name was proposed only after De Valera, who is in the United States on a lecture tour, had been nominated and defeated, and O'Connell had been put up and voted down. His election had been taken as almost a foregone conclusion since his resignation last week.

The president of the Irish Free State is not president in the American sense, but is president of the cabinet council, whose members he appoints from the membership of the dail, and which is responsible to the dail. The nominal head of the government is the governor general, appointed by the crown, James MacNeill.

When President Cosgrave's ministry fell last week it had survived since 1922, passing a general election unscathed, and had attained a record for longevity among European cabinets. It fell by a vote of 66 to 64 on an opposition bill extending old age pensions.

NEW MOVIE STANDARDS

The barrage of criticism laid down before the advance of moving picture decency has been effective. If the new code for the industry, announced by Will H. Hays, be taken seriously. On the face of the matter there seems to be no question but that a sincere effort to better the films is assured. Mr. Hays, referring to the new code, says:

"The adoption of the code marks the latest and greatest step taken by the motion picture industry in the direction of self-government, to the end that the entertainment, educational and informative values of the theatrical screen shall conform not only to the best standards of this art but to the whole-some instincts of life."

It is to be expected that the new code will be viewed with alarm at first. Commentators foresee dangerous limitations upon many themes long recognized as legitimate dramatic material, if the code is enforced according to the letter. Mr. Hays has been careful to provide, however, that the new principles shall be applied with "intelligent practicability," which is sufficient elasticity to guarantee all the rights of producers and their audiences.

In all probability the new principles adopted to provide for the manufacture of sound pictures, like the old silent-film principles which were not so well defined, are far worse in prospect that they will be in operation. There is no reason to believe pictures produced tomorrow will be greatly different than those being exhibited today, and indeed there is little call for them to be so. As long as the balance is more than a little favorable on the side of decency there is no great cause for alarm, even by the dyed-in-the-wool reformers.

One fact should never be forgotten, by either the producers or the public—brutality, horror, crime and vice are among the facts of life. They are not the only facts of life, however, nor are they the most important ones. When presented as entertainment, there are right and wrong ways to handle the subject. All that any code can do is to encourage presentation in the right way.

CENSUS RE-APPORTIONMENT

The Constitution of the United States calls for an enumeration of the population every ten years as the basis for apportioning members of the House of Representatives. The census has functioned to this end in every case excepting that of 1920, when an omission was upheld on the grounds that apportionment would be unfair to the agricultural states whose populations had not yet become stabilized after the World war.

The 1930 census report will effect re-apportionment in a number of states. If the House is re-apportioned according to the current estimates of population, the following states will lose one representative each: Alabama, Kansas, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New York, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Vermont and Virginia. Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, and Mississippi will each lose two members, and Missouri three. California would gain six; Michigan, four; Ohio, three; New Jersey and Texas, two each; and Arizona, Connecticut, Florida, North Carolina, Oklahoma and Washington, one each. In all these calculations it is assumed that the membership will remain at 435, as provided in the re-apportionment act of 1929 and that the same basis for apportionment will be used as in 1910.

This net change of 23 seats would be reflected in the Electoral college and presumably also in the national political conventions. The twelve largest cities in the United States, counting Washington, would have 15 more representatives than at present. Quicker enough, this is a result of the census that has not been given a great deal of attention despite the fact that it is the main objective of a $10,000,000 project of re-apportionment.

Re-apportionment never fails to be an excuse for heated argument over the increasing power of urban populations. Sparsely populated agricultural districts encounter difficulty in reconciling government by representation with their personal convictions regarding government by territory. They point to the superior voting power given urban populations, and cite that they are at the mercy of densely populated districts hundreds of miles away, perhaps, as far as legislation is concerned. It is a problem in every state, indeed in every country. Its qualifications as a clear example of majority rule are an insufficient argument to the agricultural minority which is opposed to it.

What Others Say

IT'LL BE DIFFERENT LATER ON

The fact that only twenty-three out of 400 senior co-eds at Northwestern university admitted that they prefer matrimony as a vocation in life, need not be taken too seriously. Even modern college girls have a certain cynicism about admitting that they cherish a longing for the wedded state, unless there is some definite prospect ahead in the form of a personage who has donated a ring. Old ideas and "inhibitions" fade slowly among those who consider themselves fully "emancipated," and there are limits to the "frankness" of the most advanced girls when the question of their own individual aims and ambitions arises.

Aside from that, a remark by one of the twenty-three who are looking forward with anticipation to double happiness, is quite to the point. "Given ten years," says the wise young woman discussing her girl classmates who vote for careers, "Ten years from now the figures will be reversed. The girls have the idea they will be submerging their personalities in marriage. But wait until they find their man."

And it's true, sister, except for one thing. The girl who waits ten years after graduation before deciding to marry, may find trouble in finding her man—and getting him to take her.—Detroit Free Press

Meet April Days with Plenty of ICE

TEMPERATURES vary a lot these spring days—warm one hour, chilly the next. It is then that foods must be especially well protected to keep them fresh and flavorful, safe for the family table. And foods kept in a well cool refrigerator will stay fresh and pure. The temperature is at a constant low cold, and the air neither too moist nor too dry, but just right to keep foods in prime condition.

Where there are children in the family, it is particularly important that there be a plentiful supply of ice in the ice box all the time. Their vigorous young bodies must depend on food that is pure and healthful. Make us responsible for keeping your refrigerator well cool.

THE SIGHTLESS CHILD

There is something most appealing to the sympathies in thought of the blind child. There is a vast number of these children in the world. Such a child merits every loving thought and practical effort in its behalf that can be bestowed upon it.

The New York Association for the Blind is an organization that has recently taken up education for the mothers of blind children who are in the kindergarten department of the association. Many of the suggestions given there may be of inestimable value to hundreds of other mothers of the blind.

It was found that unlike home treatment of such children resulted in undying much of the good which the children had learned in the association kindergarten. Mothers who take instruction at the association are training their children at home along the lines outlined.

Many blind children are left in idleness at home a great part of the time. This is wrong. Such a child should be taught many of the helpful duties about the home. They should be made self-reliant.

There are endless things a child may learn to do. In the first place, he should be taught to walk at the normal walking age. Of course, a blind child has an instinctive fear to overcome, but this can be done through patience in the training.

Blindness is not accepted as a handicap at the New York Association of the Blind. They build on the theory that blind children should be treated the same as children who have their eyesight.

The children are encouraged to take part in the running and playing games used in all kindergartens. As early as possible a child should put body and mind into action.

Children should be discouraged about sitting alone and in idleness. They should be encouraged to play with other children who have their sight. In short, they should not be treated other than as normal children.

Children are adaptable. A child is easily shown how to take part in some home duties, and made to believe that he can do them as well as anyone else. The child can learn how to shell peas and beans, peel potatoes, crack nuts, wash dishes, help dust and clean the furniture. A child loves to feed the pets, the dog, the cat or the canary. He can feed the animals on the farm.

There are out-of-door games for children which they could do well to learn, for every child should be outdoors as much as possible. Digging in the garden under mother's supervision would be an ideal pursuit for the small boy who can feel but not see.

In the New York Association for the Blind the children who have not even learned to use roller skates. Out on the open air, and they learn both how to cultivate self-confidence and build for good health at the same time.

The sightless child who can have the benefit of such a practical training for helplessness and the development of self-confidence will develop into a happier and better citizen. His mental and physical development will follow along normal lines. There is much to be said for such a program of education as being put forth by the New York Association for the Blind. It is a very fine thing!

Highlights Of Ohio History

By J. H. GALBRAITH

Referring to the fact that the Connecticut Land company, when it came to survey its Ohio purchase—the Connecticut Western Reserve—found that it contained about one million acres less than estimated.

H. B. Hinsdale, the historian, wrote that the company should have charged this loss to the Appalachian mountains and the Iroquois Indians.

He explained that what he meant was that the Englishman had been barred back from the central west by the mountain barrier so that he did not early in American history push on westward and explore the country beyond it, while a wholesome fear of the strong Iroquois tribe of Indians, in control of the shores of Lake Erie, dissuaded the French from attempting to execute any plans for exploration of the country south of that shore. They may have had.

The result was that long after the country to the northwest and west of Ohio had been quite well explored and mapped, little was known about the district that now constitutes the state of Ohio. Old maps that fairly well presented the geography of Canada, carried the legend "this shore almost unknown" on the southern line of Lake Erie.

This continued to be the situation down to the middle of the 18th century, though at that time Christopher Oist was passing through Central Ohio on a tour of investigation the first white man to look out over this region.

Up to this time the maps in existence that undertook to outline the region varied greatly. Some had Lake Erie running far south toward the Gulf, while others had it boring due east and west and in 1793 the first map was published showing the rivers of Ohio in approximately their correct positions. A short time before this, maps were made whose authors confused the Ohio and Wabash rivers as the same stream. The Connecticut Land company evidently used a map that represented the south shore of Lake Erie as practically an east and west line and the error cost them the price of a million acres of land at the time.

The Stars Say —

For Friday, April 4

While the general trend of the affairs of the day may be toward progress and fulfilled ambitions, yet the most promising course of events may be negated by a personal predisposition to quarrels, strife and litigation. With temperate behavior there is opportunity for success and advancement, especially for those in employment.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a successful and prosperous year if they will but curb a tendency to contention, strife and litigation. Those in employment should push for favors or promotion. A child born on this day should be well equipped for success and high station in life, but it should be given early discipline in good nature and self-government.

MISTRIAL HALTS DEATH HEARING

Future Action In Charge
Against Lila Jimerson
Remains Uncertain

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 3.—Future steps in the prosecution of "Red Lila," consumptive Cayuga Indian woman, for the murder of a white woman were uncertain today.

Just as the case was nearing the jury's hands, a mistrial was declared late yesterday when it was learned that it would be at least two weeks before Lila Jimerson could again face them.

A possibility remained that Lila might avoid a second trial by pleading to murder in the second degree. As the 35-year-old Indian woman lay seriously ill on a hospital bed, an offer to accept such a plea was made by District Attorney Guy B. Moore who had been seeking conviction of murder in the first degree.

One of Lila's counsel, John V. Mainey, advised her to accept the offer to plead to the lesser charge, but her other attorney, John S. Knibbe, opposed the plan. Accepting the latter advice she refused the offer and a mistrial was declared.

District Attorney Moore pointed out that the present term of court would not expire until June and indications were that should she decide to accept the offer of pleading to a lesser charge she would be permitted to do so anytime before the case again is called.

Meanwhile, Henri Marchand, artist, still is being held in jail as a material witness. The district attorney said Marchand would be held in custody until the seriousness of Lila's illness is determined. The state charges that Lila, infatuated with Marchand, instigated the murder of Mrs. Marchand.

Also in the Erie county jail is 65-year-old Nancy Bowen, a tribeswoman of Lila's, who is accused of the actual murder. No date has been set for her trial.

and County Engineer Lloyd Kirk will all be in the Republican primaries.

The death of Coroner J. M. Van Fossan injects a new angle to that contest as it was generally understood he would enter again. He had served on the post for 14 years.

Have New Coroner
Ernest R. Sturges, of East Liverpool, was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Coroner Van Fossan. He has not announced his intentions of running.

Columbiana county voters will also select members of the state legislature, and district voters a state senator.

R. D. Smith, of Salineville and W. H. Van Fossan, of Lisbon, now serving as representatives will again seek posts. It is believed Smith has announced his candidacy and Van Fossan is generally believed to be considering another term.

At present this district has no representative in the Ohio senate as Harry M. Carpenter died while in office. Earl Lewis, of St. Clairsville, a former state senator, will be a candidate.

Aged Californian, Once Salem Resident, Hopes For Long Life

W. R. Miller, 88-year-old Sacramento, Calif., resident, isn't satisfied with having viewed the greatest of life's changes as have been effected in the past 50 years.

A former Salem resident, Miller aspires to pass at least 100 birthdays as he can "see what happens next in this swift-moving world."

Miller lived here for years and in 1920 moved to Sacramento where he has since resided. He recently celebrated his 88th birthday.

He is a veteran of Civil war strife during which he came in contact with Abraham Lincoln, for whom he voted in presidential election.

He spends much of his time in his California home seated in an old, comfortable rocker but still evinces more than passing interest in worldly affairs, especially modern inventions.

During his period of life Miller has viewed the many great changes in life and has watched with great interest the development of transportation from the stage coach to the airplane and wonders what is going to be the next great occurrence to revolutionize the world's business and domestic affairs.

He enlisted in the infantry during the Civil war and participated in several major battles. He was wounded twice.

Miller has been a member of the Masonic lodge since 1870 and is affiliated with the Odd fellows organization over a 65-year period.

A verdict for $1,500 was then returned against Powell, who offered no defense in open court.

nearby all occupied by Italian families. Men, women and children ran shrieking through the streets as the windows of their dwellings were shattered and their homes were otherwise damaged by the explosions.

Cries of the injured mingled with the shrieking screams of fire companies speeding to the scene as utmost confusion resulted. Volunteers and firemen plunged into the flaming debris immediately in an effort to rescue those still alive as flames spread through the tangled wreckage.

State troopers from nearby barracks finally arrived and took charge of rescue operations. They were aided by 100 cadets who were rushed from the Valley Forge Military academy a few miles distant.

Proprietor Believed Dead
Alexander Bardaro, proprietor of the plant, is believed to have perished with his employees in the blasts.

The explosions were felt over a radius of more than 35 miles. Doylestown, Chester, Norristown, Bristol, Marcus Hook and Pennsylvania cities reported slight damage from the explosions while serious damage was reported by Philadelphia, Ardmore, Radnor, Paoli and nearby cities in the main line district.

New Jersey cities, including Trenton, Mt. Holly, Camden, Burlington and Woodbury, also reported having felt the blasts as did numerous communities along the Delaware river in New Jersey.

Negro Youth Shot After Murder of Mother And
Boy In Florida

SEBRING, FLA., April 3.—Mrs. William E. Carver, member of a prominent Philadelphia family, and her two year old son are dead today, victims of an axe attack by a negro yard boy.

The negro, Ben Whitehead, was shot to death by Mrs. Carver's husband immediately after the attack yesterday.

The Carvers, who came here recently from Philadelphia, were taking an afternoon nap. Mrs. Carver was awakened and cried out as she saw the man in her bedroom. He struck Mrs. Carver and she fell dead on the bed. Another blow killed the child. A baby in another room was not harmed.

Carver, who was asleep in an adjoining bedroom, rushed to his wife's room just after the attack and shot the negro to death.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict of murder in the case of the woman and her child. "at the hands of a negro identified as Ben Whitehead."

The negro met his death at the hands of Carver, the jury said, "a justifiable homicide."

RUSSIA SHOULD remember that when a mare is valuable and a fine horse is wanted, the mare is not put to work before the colt is born or afterward. Sparta educated its youth. Trained young men to surprise and murder the miserable bribe slaves, on their way to work at sunrise, that the young men might be fierce in war. Sparta's law use iron for money, that no man might care to have much of it.

Fine theories were worked out there as in Russia, but Sparta amounted to little. Athens, where human nature was allowed to develop according to rules not suggested by Draco or Karl Marx, produced Greek grandeur, art, literature and philosophy.

We are wound up at birth, to run in a certain way, our inborn impulses are our main springs, and we cannot remake ourselves. To interfere with the family, with the mother's passionate love of her children, with man's ambition, stimulated by duty to his family, and reverence for his father and mother, is to insure a nation's downfall.

THROUGHOUT INDIA, recently, thousands of little girls, from 2 to 10 years of age, have been hurriedly married, a majority of them to full-grown men in time to escape provisions of a child marriage law just promulgated throughout all British-India. The law does not apply to territories of native princes. Gentlemen that submit to British overlordship draw their great revenues and may do with little girls and others as they please.

No girl under 14, no boy under 18 may be legally married in British-India, and there is deep resentment on religious grounds. The Hindu believes that a horrible destiny awaits the female child dying unmarried, even through no fault of her own. In a recent "marriage" the Hindu bride was 2 years old, the groom an adult. Very shocked at that, but very recently dead members of one creed here and elsewhere taught that an infant dying without baptism, through no fault of its own, was damned eternally. What's the difference?

Here's how the people have judged this question of

VALUE

IN the tire business, as in any other, production has a direct relation to costs.

It happens that Goodyear builds millions more tires than any other manufacturer, which ought to mean something to the man who buys tires.

We think it does: "More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind!"

We think this single towering fact — not to be overridden by any sales argument, however ingenious — says all that needs be said of Goodyear quality, Goodyear service, Goodyear price.

The next time you need a tire, and seek the most you can get for your money, remember how the people have judged this question of value.

The simplest and safest advice, is for you to do what an overwhelming percentage of your fellow-motorists are doing — go straight to the nearest Goodyear dealer!

Invest just $1.13 a can of Expello and hang it up in your closet over your clothes. No more moths, no more moth worms—no more holes. Expello is a heavier-than-air vapor in crystal form that seeps down through every fold and pleat and finds the hidden, hungry moth worms. That is the end of them, not one can escape. Expello is harmless to all except those of the moth family. It will not stain. It cannot spot. The odor disappears as soon as the clothes are put on. What could be simpler? No spraying. Just hang up the can and you have real moth protection. Better buy one or two of the $1 cans today and save your clothes.

AT THE GRAND

"Bell's Hawaiians" well known troupe of singing, playing and dancing entertainers open a three-day engagement at the Grand tonight.

The company is headed by M. R. Bell, who is looked upon as a leader of entertainers throughout the entire island of Hawaii and his cast includes Baby Bobby, Billy Aylett, Clarence Kane and Pete Davidson, including Princess Lei Leleana, peer of Hawaiian hula dancers.

A feature act will be presented by Baby Bobby in her black bottom, tap dance and Egyptian numbers.

Another special attraction is Lei Leleana, a Hawaiian belle in the world famous hula hula dance.

On The Screen

"His First Command," which is the screen feature at the Grand is an original all-second and dialogue story by Jack Jungmeyer and James Gleason, written around the historic cavalry post at Fort Riley, and including all the colorful experiences of a cavalryman in the making.

The cast includes, besides William Boyd, Dorothy Sebastian, Paul Hurst, Zasu Pitts, Alphonse Ethier, Hugh Cummings, Helen Parrish, Chick Collins and Charles Moore.

"SKY HAWK"

At The State

"The Sky Hawk" all talking movie-tone romance of a world afloat opens today at the State theater.

Throughout its story is a love struggle between two men for the same girl, handled humanely, with adroit twists while the stirring tempestuous life about them envelopes all three in many hazardous situations.

Doubly notable for its vivid and breath taking flying scenes, particularly in the gripping climax, and for its unusually human and appealing story, "The Sky Hawk" is totally unlike any previous aviation film, talking or silent—and is entertainingly distinctive.

Enacted by a hand picked cast, written, directed and staged by experts, the production is creating a sensation wherever it has been shown. Brilliant John Garrick, the young British flyer-actor, hailed as the talking screen's newest find, and Helen Chandler, New York Theater Guild celebrity and the leading woman in "Salute," another big Fox hit, have principal honors with Gilbert Emery, the Scotland Yard man in "Behind That Curtain" heading the supporting cast. Joyce Compton, Billy Bevan, Lennox Pawle, Lumsden Hare and Dalphine Pollard all take important roles in this pioneer up in the air talkie.

As a result of this pressure distribution the weather is unsettled over the southeast with heavy, local rains in Tennessee, northern Alabama and northern Georgia. Elsewhere the weather is fair with some cloudiness over the northeast. The temperature changes were rather moderate and irregular, the general tendency being to warmer. Over the Ohio valley it is from 6 to 14 degrees warmer this morning.

The existing general conditions over the country are apparently favorable to fair weather without any important change in temperature in this vicinity during the next 36 hours, although rain is probable in southeastern Ohio.

This space could be cluttered with well-worn adjectives but, why hang 'em on. You'll finish the praise when you see and hear it. We'll just say it's a swell talkie and let it go at that. If you're "air-minded" you'll like it. But even if you don't know a strut from a tailspin you'll like the good, clean romance, the tremendous climax and the magnitude of the production. And it's "different" because nothing has ever been done like it before, and that's no fib. Take a tip: Don't miss it!

Salem High To Receive Big Ten Grid Title Award April 14

WALSH SELECTS CONNIE MACK'S ATHLETICS TO REPEAT THIS YEAR

Officials Of District Scholastic League To Assemble At Alliance

Tribute will be paid Coaches Floyd W. Stone and Harold C. McCord for their development of the second undefeated high school team in Salem High history at a meeting of Big Ten Interscholastic officials at Alliance Monday night, April 14.

The large silver trophy cup, emblematic of the Red and Black's victory in the sectional interscholastic league, will be presented to the school's coaches at the meeting.

Salem High was declared the outstanding football team in the district through its record of 11 straight victories during the 1935 season, a mark which has never before been equalled in Red and Black grid annals.

Only one other Salem team went through a football campaign without sustaining defeat but it fell one victory short of the number registered by the Stonemen last year. Last season was the first year of official existence of the North-eastern Ohio association.

It continued activities through the basketball season, Wooster High being declared title-winners after its successful record. Alliance was rated as runner-up to Wooster in the cage campaign and also finished second to Salem in the football league.

Trims Alliance For Title

The Red and Black annexed the championship crown through its sensational 7-0 victory over Alliance on a snow-blanketed gridiron at Reilly stadium.

Officers will be elected at the meeting in two weeks for the 1936-37 school year and plans formulated for coming athletic competitions.

The association will gather in track competition at Salem's athletic stadium under the new floodlight system, the night of Wednesday, May 10.

Gordon Locke, football coach at Western Reserve college, Cleveland, will be a speaker at the meeting. Open forum discussions on various athletic matters will be held.

Salem High will send representatives to the affair, it being probable that Coaches Stone and McCord and Principle Wilbur J. Springer will attend.

The entire sporting public is invited to the event.

Banquet Date Set For Next Thursday

Salem's first annual basketball banquet will be held at the Memorial building Thursday, April 10, Joe M. Kelley announced today.

Hans Wagner, scheduled as principal speaker on the occasion, notified C. S. Christensen who is cooperating with Kelley in arrangements for the affair, that he will appear on that date.

The entire sporting public is invited to the event.

Cage Team Feted Wednesday Night

Members of the Lease Drug basketball team of the 1935-36 city Class B league were guests at a banquet held at the Quaker Tea room last night.

C. W. Kaminsky was host to the players, nine being present. Short talks were given by James H. Wilson and Eddie Tresler.

It was Kaminsky's first year of participation in city basketball and it is probable that the Drugs will be represented in cage activities here in coming seasons.

Kaysees Roll High Score In Tourney

Salem Knights' of Columbus bowlers crashed through with a series of high scores in tournament games bowled in the inter-city competition Tuesday night and appeared due to finish high in the competition's rankings.

To-date the Salem team's single-game score of 2854 tops all scores in the event. Summary of the games follows:

Roelle ..... 178 232 187 597
Reasback ..... 170 185 157 512

THE DAY In Sports

BASEBALL RULES SOON
BASKETBALL BANQUET

It won't be long now until baseball will be the talk in every city, town, village and hamlet in each of America's 48 states and the District of Columbia. Many a trouble-domestic, business or otherwise—will be forgotten in a perusal of the sports page and in a philosophical inspection concerning "wonder what they'll do tomorrow?"

Baseball is a grand game. Invented by Abner Doubleday in 1839 it has always been considered America's national sport. It has been this, despite frequent scandals that have threatened its dominance. It draws millions, hundreds of millions, through giant bulwarks of concrete at so much a head, and packs a motley array of sweaty fandom into stadia, chewing popcorn, peanuts, drinking pop and otherwise, in such fashion that it can't be seen elsewhere but at the "ball grounds."

The business man may have his big conference at 2:30 p. m. but if that is the hour set for Babe Ruth and the fence busting Yankees to clash with the world's championship Athletics, the appointment just won't be kept. There is more hockey played by business men from the office for baseball games than there is by school kiddies for the "ole swimming hole". There are 100 times as many persons interested in the homerun race between Babe Ruth and Rogers Hornsby than those enthused over prospects of senate passing a bill.

More money will be spent on baseballs — mere horseshoe, string, cork or rubber—than any average wife will spend on clothes this year. Yeh, many times more! Enough peanuts will be chewed at baseball games to feed all of the elephants in America for a month. If all the pop drank at baseball games was poured into the Mississippi, levees, governors, and anything whatever would be able to stop the worst flood in the country's history.

The basketball banquet which will be held at the Memorial building next week will take on the form of a post mortem affair in which da-quiries here during the past season and what steps might be taken next season to make conditions in community athletics still more advantageous to the participants and fans together.

Together with this it will be a good-will gathering in which losers will be impressed that more basketball seasons are coming and no matter what the result of the past campaign may have been, it will be advantageous for backers to make another stab at victory laurels in coming seasons.

The city is indebted to these men who make possible a city league by their entrance of a team and this banquet will be held with purpose of displaying this appreciation.

A reader today contributed a past occurrence for our "remember when" topics mentioning "remember when Salem High almost won the county championship from Leetonia several years ago." Thereby it's very much apparent that people that wear celluloid collars shouldn't hurl matches.

Fight Results
NEW YORK—Joe La Puci, New York lightweight, defeated Tiny Gazette of France (4).

Tommy Ando, New York welterweight, defeated Al Flaks, New York (4).

CINCINNATI — Joe Anderson, Covington, Ky., defeated Haakon Hansen, Chicago middleweight (10).

Jackie Stewart, Chicago featherweight, defeated Tony Leone, Dover, Ohio, (6).

DELAWARE, O. — Hampered by bad weather, Ohio Wesleyan's baseball squad are going through two hard workouts a day during the current spring vacation in hope of rounding into playing shape in time for the opening game against Ohio State at Columbus, April 7.

Indians Picked To Battle For Third Position

Cleveland Team's Place In Ranking Depends On Infielder

BOSTON RATED FOR CELLAR POST AGAIN

Philadelphia Outfit To Be Outstanding, Says Sport Expert

By DAVIS J. WALSH
NEW YORK, April 3.—As far as anything can be certain in this complex existence, the Philadelphia Athletics are a swift, unerring kick in the pantry to win the American League pennant in 1936. They know all the answers; the rest of them don't even know all the questions and won't, until they get out there in the field and find out what they have, if anything.

It is a dictate of custom, of course, to name a world's champion to repeat the next time out but the result of the last world series shouldn't enter into this and does not. The Athletics were a somewhat unbalanced, imperfect ball club then. They are no better now but that is unimportant. The main point is that they are no worse.

This should not be without significance, considering the fact that they won the pennant by something like 18½ games and that nobody in the meantime has done anything to rectify the matter.

Therefore, if there is to be anything savoring of a fight in the American League this year, it should devolve upon those teams that are gallantly determined to finish second to the Athletics. The club that ultimately falls heir to this dubious honor will not be the New York Yankees, peace to their ashes. However, naming the club that will beat them is strictly another tune on the old family pianoforte.

It might be the Browns; it might be the Indians. It might be neither. Who knows? I'm not the man I used to be and never was, so I won't attempt to tell you. All I can do is call them as I think I see them, which is something like the following:

1. Philadelphia; 2. New York, Cleveland, St. Louis; 3. Detroit; 4. Chicago; 5. Washington; 6. Boston.

Athletics Have Pitchers
Like the Cubs in the National League, only more so, the Athletics have the pitching and the hitting and can afford to let the rest of it run pretty much for Mrs. Sweeney's husband. They have a mediocre infield, defensively, for a championship ball club. But what of it? Have the Yankees a championship infield, with the uncertain Koenig at shortstop and a recruit on third base? Have the Indians a fool-proof array with their untried combination at second base? Are the Browns above reproach in this department and can the Tigers get by with a shortstop who wasn't good enough for the Boston Red Sox?

The Athletics are not without their faults but neither are the rest of them and, unfortunately, the latter have all too few of the champions' virtues. All the latter have to do is play about 85 per cent of the baseball they know and they will ride home on the broadcloth.

Indians Improve Little
The Indians and Browns, for instance, have advanced little between seasons. As for the Yankees, they have receded like an old man's gum. The break up of their infield, the decline of their pitching and the death of Huggins came simultaneously and disastrously in the midst of a reorganization, made necessary by the natural deterioration of an old champion that could go no further. The trend here should be downward. How far it will take them, once they start to go, hardly depends on the Yankees at all. It depends largely on how far the Browns or the Indians or maybe the Tigers can come forward.

The Browns are at least as good as they were last year and perhaps better, whereas many suspect that the Indians were ahead of themselves in 1935 and are due for the inevitable reaction. Fonseca led the league then; they say he can't do it again. Indeed, his illness makes of him a highly precarious enterprise this year. However, Goldman seems to have come through at shortstop which, if true, will give the Indians something they didn't have—an infield. It is hard to call the difference between this pair particularly so in view of the fact that, with all of their internal acrimony, the Browns were only two games back of the Indians last year.

Donie Bush hasn't a ball club yet but he is always a good man with a new outfit, which ought to get him home ahead of the Senators, who are standing still very furiously. The Red Sox may be passed by without comment. I don't doubt that they would prefer it that way.

"Konjola Very Medicine That Fit My Case!"

Had Suffered Ten Years—All Else Tried Failed Before New Medicine Came To Rescue

MRS. ABE HOLMAN

"My experience with Konjola proved to me that this is, indeed, the master medicine," said Mrs. Abe Holman, 238 South Torrence street, Dayton, Ohio. "For ten years I suffered dreadfully from stomach trouble. My health was rapidly slipping away, and no matter what I did to prevent it, I failed to find the right medicine. Impurities in my system made me feel sluggish, tired and worn out. Every meal was followed by cramping pains, misery, and a feeling of heaviness in my stomach, and I had about abandoned hope of ever seeing another well day."

"There was but one way to find out about Konjola, the medicine I heard so much about, and I decided to try it. Well, Konjola is the very medicine that fit my case! In five weeks this wonderful medicine banished all my ills. Now I eat hearty meals without the slightest distress, and simply feel great. That's why I am so enthusiastic about Konjola."

Konjola forms no habit; it contains no alcohol, nor a single harmful drug. A couple of bottles usually brings amazing relief, but a treatment of from six to eight bottles are recommended for complete and lasting results.

Konjola is sold in Salem, Ohio at J. H. Lease Drug Co. Three Stores and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

Victim of Rheumatic Pains Finds New Hope In Owa-Ton-Na

Sleeplessness and Nervousness Corrected With the Use of This Herbal Preparation

MR. RAY L. PARRISH

Mr. Ray L. Parrish, R. F. D. No. 3, Canton, Ohio, says: "Owa-Ton-Na surely has been a wonderful help to me and I certainly am glad that I found out about this herbal preparation. My kidneys, liver and stomach seemed to be in a sluggish condition. I suffered from severe headaches and my nerves were getting in a badly run down condition. Friends recommended Owa-Ton-Na and I decided to give it a trial. "In just a short time my stomach acted better, indigestion, gas and bloating spells disappeared. My bowels now function normally, my kidneys are acting better and those severe headaches are a thing of the past. It surely is surprising what a difference Owa-Ton-Na has made in me. I can go to bed at night and get a good night's sleep, feeling rested in the morning. My nerves have quieted down and the rheumatism has left me. I have recommended Owa-Ton-Na to many of my friends and they are all pleased with its results and I surely recommend it to other sufferers."

Don't be a slave to your body. Owa-Ton-Na is a herbal preparation which eliminates from the system harmful injurious poisons which bring about stomach, liver, kidney and intestinal disorders, rheumatism, neuritis, nervousness and a general rundown condition of health. Owa-Ton-Na is sold in Salem at J. H. Lease Drug Co. Three Stores—Adv.

She's Getting Thinner Every Day

HER FAT IS MELTING FAST AWAY

All over the world Kruschen Salts is appealing to girls and women who strive for an attractive, free from fat figure that cannot fail to win admiration.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast.

Be sure and do this every morning for "It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat." Don't miss a morning.

The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts is carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

Get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts at J. H. Lease Drug Co. Three Stores, or any drug store (lasts 4 weeks) with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back.

One Montana woman lost 19 pounds of fat in 4 weeks and feels better than she has for years. Adv.
